Torah Scrolls on Display at Cal State Fullerton

March 17, 2014

What:
"Torah Scrolls: Hebrew Texts From Jewish and Christian Sacred Writings" are on display through May 31 in Cal State Fullerton's Pollak Library. The exhibit includes four Torah scrolls and books selected from the library’s Special Collections/Rare Book holdings, including a Talmud (1724, Tractate Niddah - Babylonian).

When:
Through May 31

Where:
Cal State Fullerton, Pollak Library, second floor east terrace
800 N. State College Blvd., Fullerton 92831

Curators:
The exhibit is curated by George Giacumakis, professor of history and director emeritus of Cal State Fullerton’s Irvine Campus, and director at the Museum of Biblical & Sacred Writings, and Trish Campbell, Pollak Library exhibit program coordinator.

More Info:

Parking:
$2 per hour or $8 for a daily permit. Details available online (http://parking.fullerton.edu/parking/FAQforVisitors.asp).

Media Contact:
George Giacumakis (mailto:giacumakis@fullerton.edu), 657-278-1737
Michael Mahi (mailto:mimahi@fullerton.edu)