Government Documents Collection Highlighted

A Cal State Fullerton Pollak Library exhibit gives a broad overview of the range of government documents, including a selection of maps, books, documents and microforms, that reside in the library's government documents section.

The section provides access to government information in electronic and tangible formats from four collections: United States, California, local city/county/regional and international.

The exhibit, which continues through May 1, was curated by Ruth Dye, government documents librarian and acting coordinator, and Marilyn Slagle, library services specialist and a government documents cataloger.

The exhibit is located across from the circulation desk on the first floor of the Pollak Library. More details can be found on the government documents exhibit page.
