Pollak Library Participating in Open Access Week

Pollak Library is participating in International Open Access Week, a global event that focuses on the benefits of enabling open access to information and research.

Open Access Week from Oct. 20-26 is an opportunity for the academic and research community to continue to learn about the potential benefits of open access, to share what they’ve learned with colleagues, and to help inspire wider participation in helping to make open access a new norm in scholarship and research.

Pollak Library is sponsoring a quiz as part of the week. On Tuesday, Oct. 2, campus members can test their open-access knowledge from 12:30 p.m. to 1 p.m. in front of the Faculty Development Center located on the south side of Pollak Library in the basement. On Wednesday and Thursday, the contest will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. between Aloha Java and the Humanities-Social Sciences Building.
